Throughout the three months that SCHREIEDER remained in INNSBRUCK there arose no cases of proved espionage or sabotage, all suspected cases proving without foundation. In the course of checking upon S. Tyrolaan repatriates SCHREIEDER made several trips to BOLZANO to see the German official in charge of this repatriation, a Oberreg. Rat BRUNNER who later rose to be a Brigf. The Frontier post commander whom he dealt with as well was a man named MORITZO on the Brenner who made use of V-men.

Transfer to The HAGUE

July 1940

In about July 1940 Dr HARSTER was moved from INNSBRUCK to The HAGUE where he became B.d.S. for newly occupied Holland. A few weeks later on 15 Aug. SCHREIEDER, on orders from RSH, Amt I (Amts Rat TENT who dealt with promotions up to Krim. Sek. level and Brigf STRECKENBACH) reported to The HAGUE where HARSTER made him chief of a new Abt "IV-E"; this was the equivalent of his previous Abt III job at INNSBRUCK and placed him in charge of all Counter-Espionage in Holland, a task previously performed by a section of Abt IV-C under a Hstuf Krim. Kom. WOLF. As assistants in the new Abt IV-E, SCHREIEDER had a Hstuf Krim Insp. BROER, a Krim O/Sec. VORLMANN, a Krim Secy. WOLDEID & 4 Krim O/Assts named WETZELS, HAUBROCK, FLEHMIG & GERNOTH. Unlike the STAPO-stellen in Germany where Counter-Espionage was a dept on its own, the B.d.S.'s staff was organised so that the Abteilungen I-VI corresponded to the Hauptaenter of the RSHA in BERLIN and thus the STAPO comprised Abt IV and Counter-Espionage was a mere sub-division of that Abt. Details of the B.d.S. Staff organisation are shown in Appendix I.

Amt VI.

As regards the officials of Amt VI & their work, SCHREIEDER explains that the Amt was created in 1937 and a member of it was attached to each STAPO-stelle in Germany so as to form what was ostensibly called an Economic Intelligence Service. Now, in Aug 1940, the Amt VI representative to the B.d.S. The HAGUE was a Walter MUELLER (Hstuf) whose activities were known to none & whose relationship with the B.d.S. were equally unknown; similarly this MUELLER was equally mysterious about his work to the head of Abt III (the SD) Staf KNOLLE and since he was ostensibly a member of Abt III, constant friction arose between the two. In about autumn 1943 a SS Hstuf. ARRENS came to replace MUELLER and he even lived in an unknown lodging on his own whereas MUELLER had been housed in the Wilhelmspark block of flats with the remainder of the B.d.S.'s staff.
